ART LOVERS AND RAILWAY ENTHUSIASTS
SET TO BE DELIGHTED BY DAVID SHEPHERD

Art lovers and railway enthusiasts will get the chance to brush with an internationally renowned artist this October at the Great Central Railway.

David Shepherd has had a remarkable career. His famous paintings reflect his passionate belief in wildlife conservation and his enthusiasm for railways. He is the owner of a '9F' locomotive, "Black Prince". The 9Fs were some of the last engines to be built in Britain and were well known for working passenger services and heavy freight trains.

The award winning heritage railway in Leicestershire is arranging an exclusive night out on the 17th of October 2009 bringing man and machine together and this is your chance to meet them both.

The Great Central Railway's president Bill Ford said, "David is a very entertaining speaker with fascinating tales to tell. We are delighted he is coming to Leicestershire to talk about all of his interests and exhibit some of his artwork."

The event will be held in the grounds of the Manor House restaurant in the Leicestershire village of Quorn. It's next to the Great Central Railway station in the village. His locomotive, 9F no. 92203 will be on display.

NOTES

Voted number 12 on the list of the 50 greatest railway journeys in the world the Great Central Railway is the UK's only double track, main line heritage railway. It's the only place in the world where full size steam engines can be seen passing each other – just as it was when steam ruled the rails. The preserved railway has been operating for over 36 years, and is manned by around 700 volunteers and a small team of permanent staff. Preservation of this section of the Great Central Railway began in 1969. The route was originally part of a main line from Sheffield to London. The 8 mile preserved section between Loughborough and Leicester is fully operational and the 4 stations reflect a different period of the railways 10 year history.

Trains run every weekend of the year, bank holidays and daily in the summer. In addition, First Class Restaurant Car Services provide 4 or 6 course meals, whilst travelling between Loughborough and Leicester or childhood dreams can come true with a Drive a Train Experience. We also run a number of family events, including “Days Out with Thomas the Tank Engine”, Bonfire Night and Santa Specials. The railway has won a number of awards including “independent railway of the year”, and a gold award
